PREFATORY.

In presenting this, the first directory of the city of El Paso, the publishers would say to the public, that notwithstanding all the disheartening features which surrounded us, we have no complaint to offer. We know full well that 1887 was a year of hard times, bad crops, strikes and boycotts all over the country, and a general feeling of depression and scarcity of money. Nevertheless the people of El Paso never lost hope and from many sources our efforts were ably and cheerfully seconded.

Within the past year we saw the completion of the El Paso Smelting Company's works and the beginning of the International Smelter and El Paso Sampling works, our sewer system put in operation, El Paso street macadamized, marked extensions made in the gas and electric light works, telegraph and telephone service, a highly flattering increase in our customs; the completion of our magnificent Opera House, Sheldon block and many other public and private enterprises. A new city hall and fire headquarters has been planned, and a site secured for a quarter million dollars United States court house and postoffice, and charters for new lines of street railway secured, miles of new sidewalks laid and, in fact, great and small the work finished and begun in 1887, will aggregate more than one million dollars.

El Paso is no longer a standstill city, and those who do not move with the procession must go farther and farther behind till lost sight of. The future holds up to view the largest possible amount of promise, and the people are awake to the opportunities of the hour; in fact, all visitors here invariably speak of the life and thrift they see on every side, and if we did not occasionally speak of hard times the stranger would never imagine such a thing could exist here.

In compilation of our work we found many obstacles in our way. The Mexican population not being accustomed to directories were loth to give names and information, and the Chinese could only be reached through an interpreter, while many engaged in questionable pursuits, avoided the canvassers and could be reached only after the loss of much time and at great annoyance. Nevertheleess we started in with the determination to give the people what they asked for—a complete directory. We believe we have succeeded as well as it was possible to, all things considered, though we are not egotistical enough to claim infallibility. No directory ever was, or can be published that will be absolutely correct, as daily changes are going on, but a carefully compiled one can be nearer correct than any other medium for collecting names and locations.

We would call the attention of the public to the fact that all names are alphabetically compiled according to spelling, not sound of pronunciation. The name SMITH sounds almost the same when spelled Smythe, Schmidt, Schmit, etc., and BUNK is sometimes spelled Byrnes, Birns, Meyer, Miler, Myar, Myars, Laughlin, Longhill, Mc, Mac, etc. Remember, though they sound the same they may be on different pages. Do not blame the publishers until you have thoroughly examined into the matter.

In our canvass for population our figures show the total number of resident inhabitants of the city, all ages, races and both sexes, to be 10,000. In the list of names of course, only the heads of families and grown persons having occupations appear. The postoffice statistics, the voting population and those old enough to vote but not citizens, tax rolls, water consumers, (the latter amount to about 8,000 persons), added to the number who depend on the aequanis, indicate that our figures are correct, and we took particular pains to be accurate on that point so that we could make affidavit to our count which we did when the figures were turned in to the city.

To the general public who have so kindly assisted us in obtaining information and substantially aided us with orders for advertising and copies of the directory, we feel grateful, and hereby acknowledge our thanks. While the work is not all that we hoped to make it perhaps, we assure the public that we shall continue from year to year to make such improvements in time, means and the support we hope to obtain will permit. We did not engage in the work as a speculation for one season only, but intend to make it a permanent thing, and with the aid of our people, the railroads and other corporations, will annually put El Paso before the public as the giant young city standing at the gateway to the Two Republics, peerless among the peers of the Lone Star state.

It is being improved rapidly, and is designed for fair grounds, race track, horticultural, agricultural and mineral exhibits, breeding and training grounds, and a point for ball games, competitive drills, and sports of a local, state, national and international character. A splendid driveway to and from the grounds is assured, and one or more lines of street railway will be constructed at no distant day, making the time each way in ten minutes. Fencing, tree planting, erection of buildings and the formation of a permanent track are under way. The officers are: W. S. Hills, president; O. T. Bassett, vice president; Will E. Race, secretary; L. B. Freundenthal, treasurer.

EL PASO STREET GUIDE.

[Owing to the irregularity in direction of many streets and the several additions into which the city is divided, it was not found practicable to arrange the street names alphabetically. The corner of El Paso and San Antonio streets is made a starting point for the main portion of the city, as the person who is not acquainted with locations cannot trace from those two streets. The abbreviations we use are initials for points of the compass: Avenue, Ave.; street, st.; addition, ad.; extension, ext.; river, r.; Campbell, Camp.; Cotton, Cot.; Magoffin, Mag.; Morehead, Mor.; Bassett, Bas.; Satterthwaite, Sat.; Alexander, Alex.; Mundy, Mun. Streets east and west or north and south of initial points may be in this list twice.

All streets between the Rio Grande river on the west and Cotton avenue on the east, east and west San Antonio on the north, and Rio Grande river on the south, are in the Campbell and Magoffin additions.

BUSINESS DIRECTORY
OF THE
CITY OF EL PASO,
1888.

The patrons of the directory will bear in mind that the names herein contained do not include all, but is intended as an aid to the general and complete directory which is found in preceding pages. There are many in all trades, professions and pursuits who are only journeymen and whose names belong and will be found in the general list. In looking for the different headings if you do not find the name you want under one, it may be under some other. A merchant may deal in dry goods, clothing, gents furnishing goods, carpets and numerous other things. The painter may appear under paints and oils, wall paper, or simply painter as he elects. In all cases we advise that both the general and business directory be consulted, and when the proper spelling of names is known, the person and his or her occupation can be found readily in one or the other, or both portions of the work. The miscellaneous from title page forward should be kept in view.
