Biographical Sketch

Lloyd C. Engelbrecht (1927 – 2016) was an author and historian of art and architecture. He received his Ph.D. from the University of Chicago in 1973 and was a faculty member in the Art History department at the University of Cincinnati from 1980 to 2001. During his career at the University of Cincinnati, he taught classes on the history of design and modern art and architecture. His wife, June-Marie Fink Engelbrecht (1930 – 2009), was an art historian, author, and photographer. She grew up in El Paso and earned her M.A. in art history from Mills College. She held a curatorial position at the Smith College Museum of Art and at other universities.

The lack of information about architect Henry Trost influenced the Engelbrechts to put together the very first book about Trost's work in the southwestern United States. They also compiled an extensive database of buildings Trost designed. Through the help of a grant from the National Endowment of the Humanities, the Engelbrechts successfully documented and put together an index of Trost's buildings, sketches, inventions, and artworks. Copies of their research may be found in the El Paso Public Library and in this collection.

Henry C. Trost was born on March 5, 1860 in Toledo, Ohio and died on September 19, 1933 in El Paso, Texas. Born to German immigrants, his father was a carpenter, building contractor, and a grocer. After leaving Toledo, Trost studied and worked in several cities including Chicago, Wichita, Pueblo, and Tucson. Henry Trost moved to El Paso in 1903 where he and one of his brothers, Gustav, formed the family firm Trost and Trost. In El Paso, Trost designed commercial, government, religious, and residential buildings. He became an important and well-known architect in the Southwest.
