Biography or Historical Sketch

Albert Frank Bettie, an engineer and longtime El Paso resident, was born on August 31, 1909 in Pueblo, Colorado. He attended New Mexico State University where he was one of the first cooperative engineering students at the school. Starting in 1934 he worked for the International Boundary and Water Commission (IBWC), and later became Projects Superintendent and Chief-Operations Section. Before retiring in 1974 after 36 years at the IBWC, he worked on projects such as the International Amistad Dam and Reservoir, Falcon Dam, the Chamizal National Memorial, the Rio Grande Project, and many other projects along the U.S.-Mexico border. In addition to his career at the IBWC, Bettie was active in his church (Immanuel Baptist Church of El Paso) and was a member of the American Society of Civil Engineers – Texas Section, the Fort Hancock Texas Masonic Lodge #1202, and the Westside Rotary Club. Bettie also served as president of the El Paso branch of the American Society of Civil Engineers from 1960 – 1961. He passed away on May 8, 2000.
