16 April 2002

Dear Daniel

I want to thank you for serving as guest lecturer for my English 5315 class, Writing for Publication. Your presentation was informative and useful; students commented on how valuable the session was for them, even those whose interest focuses on academic publication. Your manner was open and friendly, making everyone feel welcome to ask questions.

I particularly appreciate your taking the time to plan so thoroughly for an extra class during a busy time of the semester.

Sincerely
